AXP Solutions Sdn Bhd

In recent years, the accountancy profession has witnessed a fast changing environment significantly affecting itself, such as the eroding public perception and confidence level of the profession, the opening of the liability floodgate against auditors, the need to establish good corporate governance practices in businesses, the demand for value-added and enhanced roles that public practices should play, the requirement for practice review, the proposed exemption of statutory audit of companies and the increasing competition that goes global. In sustaining one's competitiveness in today's challenging business environment, its ability to attain the highest level of efficiency and effectiveness, without compromising on the quality, is of utmost importance. Being part of the accountancy profession ourselves, we would like to see that all forms of transformation being undertaken by the profession would be successful in not only sustaining its viability but also bringing it to greater heights. This - we believe.

Salihin & Associates

What is lacking in current professional accountants? We learn, we know and we apply accounts. What is wrong? The accounting scandals (Enron, Worldcom, Parmalat) indicate something wrong with the profession. Therefore, the profession itself should initiate changes. For a start, the word accounting itself should be given a fresh definition and outlook. We, at Salihin & Associates (Sna), define the word accounting as part of much wider concept of accountability. The man has been given the responsibility, he than will be accounted for all of his actions. If man uses his will and ability for any purpose other than those for which they were created, he will have failed in his responsibility, violated the honor of his duties and missed the purpose of existence of man. Based on this philosophy and value, the firm made a maiden existence in consulting business in the early 2002. Since then, the firm has grown from one branch into four branches throughout Malaysia. The firm business has also diversified into other consulting business besides traditional business of audit firm i.e auditing and accounting. Being a dynamic firm, the firm has affiliated itself with Aljafree Salihin Kuzaimi International (established under Malaysian partnership). This is to enable the firm to tap on more resources and experiences of each individual partner. Moving forward, we inspire to be a "Glocal" consulting firm with the establishment around the globe.
